An amazing chapter in a greater story.

For 4 years we've lived & served in Denver's Capitol Hill and at St. John's. We've come to the conclusion that our cities don't need more church buildings, they need Christians living there, working there & serving there as those sent from the Church, to the world, for the world. While our trip has merit in and of itself, as we stand back, we see a divine training ground for a ministry to come, a ministry that equips God's people to go from the Church, to the world, for the world.

DMIN: GLOBAL MISSIONAL LEADERSHIP

Our trip begins in Kenya where Joe will start his Doctor of Ministry in Global Missional Leadership. The degree, which is offered through George Fox Seminary, focuses on equipping Christian leaders to confidently, constructively, and effectively carry out the mission of the gospel of Jesus Christ in an increasingly connected and interconnected world.

This is the 1st of three cohort gatherings. The 2nd is in Europe (Sept. 2010) & the 3rd in Asia (Aug. 2011). These gatherings, combined with online classes & independent study will culminate with graduation in May of 2012.

FOUNDATIONS OF THE GOSPEL

Our trip continues in South Africa at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Tshwane, where Joe will teach a 2-month class on the foundations of the Gospel.

While the first stage of the trip focuses on developing Joe as a Christian leader so that he can equip God's people to go from the Church, to the world, for the world, our time at the seminary will give Joe the opportunity to work with future pastors so, as they return to the people God has called them to serve, they can send them from the Church, to the world, for the world.

Projected Cost for 3.5+ months: $14,000
